Southcentral Foundation is proud to sponsor an 11-month Nuka Improvement Internship and Nuka Improvement Fellowship within Southcentral Foundation's Nuka System of Care which utilizes a relationship-based, customer-owned approach to transforming health care. This internship or fellowship provides an opportunity to participate in the redesign of systems and processes to improve the overall effectiveness of Southcentral Foundation. The internship and fellowship are paid positions for on-site work in Anchorage, Alaska from June to May.

The Southcentral Foundation Nuka Internship is available to people who have completed their undergraduate studies and who are seeking opportunities to gain hands-on introductory work experience in the area of health care improvement. Through mentored experiences and process improvement projects, the intern will have an opportunity to directly impact how care is delivered at Southcentral Foundation.

The Southcentral Foundation Nuka Fellowship is available for graduate students with experience in the area of improvement who are interested in health care improvement opportunities that will augment academic studies with more advanced work experience, intensive training and promoting opportunities for leadership.

The goal of this program is to provide a robust experiential learning experience by providing an opportunity to work alongside improvement teams and integrated care teams on various improvement projects in both rural and urban health care settings. All opportunities begin with an introduction to the SCF Foundations of Nuka: Customer Care and Relationship, Communications and Teamwork, Improvement and Innovation, and Workforce Development and Skills. Through this training the participants will gain knowledge of the Nuka System of Care, Customer-ownership, relationship-based approaches and whole system transformation requires multiple facets of operational and community services working together to support a shared vision.
